

w

Smart English Stories

subscribe

AMAZING LOVE STORY

Are you Looking for Amazing English story for listening to improve English? If you want to improve your English this will be the best story for listening. Listen and repeat after me to improve your English.

AMAZING LOVE STORY

Once upon a time, in a small village, there lived a poor man named John. He had nothing but his dreams. John went to a small school in the village.

In that same school, there was a beautiful and very rich girl named Emma. Emma liked John from the time they were small children. They played together, studied together, and laughed together. But John did not know Emma liked him. Emma's heart beat fast every time she saw John. She helped him with his studies.

She gave him food when he was hungry. She always smiled at him. But John thought Emma was just being kind. He did not know her love for him was so deep.

Years went by. Emma's love for John grew stronger. She loved him more each day. But John still did not know. One day, Emma decided to tell John how she felt. She wrote him a letter and put it in his book.

The letter said, "John, I love you. I have loved you since we were children. I want to be with you forever." John found the letter. He was surprised. He never thought Emma could love someone like him. He was poor, and she was rich. He felt he did not deserve her. But as he read the letter, he felt his heart beat faster. He started to realize he loved Emma too. He had always loved her, but he did not know it until now.

John went to Emma. He held her hands and looked into her eyes. "Emma," he said, "I love you too. I did not know it until now. But I love you with all my heart." Emma cried happy tears. She hugged John and said, "I knew you would understand one day. I have waited so long to hear you say that." John and Emma promised to be together forever. But John said, "Emma, I am poor. I want to give you a good life

Please wait for me. I will go to the city and work hard. I will become successful and come back for you. Will you wait for me?" Emma nodded. "I will wait for you, John. I will wait for you no matter how long it takes."

John went to the city. He worked very hard. He studied and learned many things. He wanted to be successful so he could give Emma a good life.

He missed Emma every day. He thought about her all the time. He remembered their promise and kept working hard.

Emma waited for John. She missed him so much. Every day, she went to the river and sat under a big tree. She thought about John and their love moments. She remembered the times they laughed and played together. She remembered their promise.

Tears fell from her eyes as she waited for John to come back. Years went by. Ten long years passed. Emma still waited for John. She went to the river and sat under the tree. She thought about him and their love. She cried and prayed for him to come back soon. Her heart ached with longing for John.

One day, as Emma sat under the tree, she heard footsteps. She looked up and saw John.

He was back. He looked different. He was successful now. He had nice clothes and a bright smile. Emma's heart leaped with joy. She ran to John and hugged him tightly. "John, you are back! I waited for you. I knew you would come back."

John held Emma close. "Emma, I am back. I am successful now. I can give you a good life. Thank you for waiting for me."

I love you more than ever." They both cried happy tears. Their love was stronger than ever. John and Emma got married. They lived a happy life together. They never forgot their love moments in school. They remembered their promise and the long years of waiting. Their love story was known by everyone in the village. People said it was the most beautiful love story they had ever heard.

"True love is worth waiting for," John said. "It is the strongest bond. No time or distance can break it."

Emma smiled and said, "Love is patient. Love is kind. It never gives up. Our love is forever."

Their story touched many hearts. People could not stop commenting on their beautiful love story. It was a story of patience, faith, and true love. A story that showed love can overcome anything.

Story 2

Once upon a time, there was a poor man named Jack. He lived in a small village and worked hard every day. He had very little money, but he had big dreams. He went to a small school in the village. In that same school, there was a beautiful and very rich girl named Rose. Rose liked Jack since they were small children. They played together, studied together, and laughed together. But Jack did not know Rose liked him.

Rose's heart beat fast every time she saw Jack. She helped him with his studies. She gave him food when he was hungry. She always smiled at him. But Jack thought Rose was just being kind. He did not know her love for him was so deep. Years went by. Rose's love for Jack grew stronger. She loved him more each day.

But Jack still did not know. One day, Rose decided to tell Jack how she felt. She wrote him a letter and put it in his book. The letter said, "Jack, I love you. I have loved you since we were children. I want to be with you forever."

Jack found the letter. He was surprised. He never thought Rose could love someone like him. He was poor, and she was rich.

He felt he did not deserve her. But as he read the letter, he felt his heart beat faster. He started to realize he loved Rose too. He had always loved her, but he did not know it until now.

Jack went to Rose. He held her hands and looked into her eyes. "Rose," he said, "I love you too. I did not know it until now. But I love you with all my heart." Rose cried happy tears.

He felt he did not deserve her. But as he read the letter, he felt his heart beat faster. He started to realize he loved Rose too. He had always loved her, but he did not know it until now.

Jack went to Rose. He held her hands and looked into her eyes. "Rose," he said, "I love you too. I did not know it until now. But I love you with all my heart." Rose cried happy tears.

She hugged Jack and said, "I knew you would understand one day. I have waited so long to hear you say that."

Jack and Rose promised to be together forever. But Jack said, "Rose, I am poor. I want to give you a good life. Please wait for me. I will go to the city and work hard. I will become successful and come back for you."

Will you wait for me?" Rose nodded. "I will wait for you, Jack. I will wait for you no matter how long it takes."

Jack went to the city. He worked very hard. He studied and learned many things. He wanted to be successful so he could give Rose a good life. He missed Rose every day. He thought about her all the time. He remembered their promise and kept working hard.

Rose waited for Jack. She missed him so much. Every day, she went to the river and sat under a big tree. She thought about Jack and their love moments. She remembered the times they laughed and played together. She remembered their promise. Tears fell from her eyes as she waited for Jack to come back. Years went by. Ten long years passed. Rose still waited for Jack. She went to the river and sat under the tree.

She thought about him and their love. She cried and prayed for him to come back soon. Her heart ached with longing for Jack.

One hot summer day, as Rose sat under the tree, she heard footsteps. She looked up and saw Jack. He was back. He looked different. He was successful now. He had nice clothes and a bright smile. Rose's heart leaped with joy.

She ran to Jack and hugged him tightly. "Jack, you are back! I waited for you. I knew you would come back." Jack held Rose close. "Rose, I am back. I am successful now. I can give you a good life. Thank you for waiting for me. I love you more than ever." They both cried happy tears. Their love was stronger than ever. Jack and Rose got married. They lived a happy life together. They never forgot their love moments in school. They remembered their promise and the long years of waiting.

Their love story was known by everyone in the village. People said it was the most beautiful love story they had ever heard.

But their journey was not without challenges. Jack and Rose faced many hard times. One day, Jack fell sick. He was very ill, and Rose was worried. She sat by his side day and night, holding his hand and crying. "Please, Jack, don't leave me. I can't live without you," she whispered through her tears.

Jack looked at her with weak eyes and said, "Rose, my love for you will never die. I will fight this, for you." Rose prayed every day for Jack to get better.

She couldn't bear the thought of losing him.

After many months, Jack finally recovered. Rose was overjoyed. "You are my strength, Jack. I couldn't have survived without you," she said, hugging him tightly. Jack smiled and said, "And you are my light, Rose. Your love gave me the strength to fight."

But soon, another challenge came. Jack's business faced a huge loss. They lost almost everything they had. Jack was devastated. "I promised to give you a good life, Rose, and now we have nothing," he said, his voice breaking. Rose held his hand and said, "Jack, you have given me more than enough. Your love is all I need. We will get through this together."

With Rose's support, Jack worked hard again. He started from scratch and slowly rebuilt his business. Their love and determination saw them through the tough times. Jack and Rose grew stronger together. They faced every storm hand in hand, never letting go of each other.

One evening, they sat by the river under the big tree where Rose had waited for Jack all those years.

"This place holds so many memories," Rose said, resting her head on Jack's shoulder. Jack smiled and said, "Yes, it does. It's a symbol of our love and promise."

As they sat there, the sun set, painting the sky in beautiful colors. Jack held Rose close and whispered, "Our love story is not just about happy moments. It's about standing by each other in tough times. It's about the promise we made and kept."

It's about the tears we shed and the smiles we shared. And most of all, it's about you and me, together forever."

Rose smiled with tears in her eyes and said, "True love is worth waiting for. It never gives up. It stays strong through every storm. Our love is forever, Jack." Jack nodded and kissed her forehead. "Yes, Rose. Our love is forever."

Their story touched many hearts. People could not stop commenting on their beautiful love story. It was a story of patience, faith, and true love. A story that showed love can overcome anything. It was a story that would be remembered for generations. Jack and Rose's love story was truly a testament to the power of love and the strength of a promise.

Thank You

Follow

Subscribe US